Sustainable and Harmonic Hotel Carpets in The Heart of Vienna

The family-operated BEST WESTERN PREMIER Hotel Harmonie Vienna was reopened in July 2013 following a full renovation. Dansk Wilton delivered a custom carpet solution for the complete renovation of one of the truly classic hotels in Vienna. Both sustainability and harmony were important factors in the hotel's interior design.

Situated in Vienna's city centre, the hotel is housed in a building that was constructed by the famous Viennese architect Otto Wagner in 1863. The extensive renovation has been a great success; the hotel is permanently fully booked and the guests express tremendous satisfaction.

"The carpets are of great importance to the interior design, and the aim was to create and convey a strong sense of well-being. The choice of Dansk Wilton as the carpet supplier was therefore an obvious choice for the Harmonie Hotel." - Architect Walter Hoffelner, Hoffelner + Partners Wien

The architects wanted a modern interpretation of typical Viennese elements. The overall theme was 'harmony', since the hotel is situated on Harmoniegasse (Harmony Street). The object was to achieve harmony through a combination of the interior, furnishings, colour scheme, lighting etc.

Known for High-Quality Carpets

Hoffelner + Partners had previously chosen Dansk Wilton for other projects, including the Marriott Courtyard project in Vienna, due to their high carpet quality standards. Therefore they were an obvious choice for the Harmonie Hotel. The project has progressed successfully and without problems.

"We received carpet design prints and samples very quickly, and everything ran on schedule, with a fast response time, tells Mr. Hoffelner."

Carpets Must Promote a Feeling of Well-Being

The renovation was carried out with great appreciation for the architecture, great dedication, and with an eye for detail. This also applies to the carpets.

"We wanted to create an 'oasis of tranquillity' in the hotel rooms. In this context, the high quality of the carpets is of utmost importance. The carpets must promote a feeling of well-being and reduce the noise", says Hotel Director Sonja Wimmer.

The hotel was reconstructed and furnished based on the philosophy 'Live Consciously', where sustainability is fundamental. For this reason, carpets made of virgin wool, a natural material, were an obvious and conscious choice.

"In the selection process, the quality of the carpets was compelling and the colour combinations were the most beautiful. We have only had good experiences with the carpets - also after the opening", tells Mrs. Wimmer.
